in Hong Kong except as authorized by a direction given in pursuance of this section.

- (2) If, before the commencement of a trial at which a person is charged with a specified sexual offence, he or another person against whom the complainant may be expected to give evidence at the trial applies to a judge for a direction in pursuance of this subsection and satisfies the judge-

 - (b) that the conduct of the applicant's defence at the trial is likely to be substantially prejudiced if the direction is not given,
- the judge shall direct that subsection (1) shall not, by virtue of the accusation alleging the offence aforesaid, apply in relation to the complainant.
- (3) If after the commencement of a trial at which a person is charged with a specified sexual offence a new trial of the person for that offence is ordered, the commencement of any previous trial at which he was charged with that offence shall be disregarded for the purposes of subsection (2). - (3A) A direction that subsection (1) shall not apply in relation to such complaint or such matter as is specified in the direction may be given, where it is necessary for the purpose of seeking information which may lead to the arrest of a person responsible for an alleged specified sexual offence, or is for any other reason in the public interest-
- (a) by a police officer of the rank of Senior Superintendent or above, where the complainant consents in writing to such a direction being given; or
 - (b) by the Secretary for Justice in any other case, (Amended L.N. 362 of 1997)

- (5) If a person who has been convicted of an offence and given notice of an appeal to the Court of Appeal against the conviction, or notice of an application for leave so to appeal, applies to the Court of Appeal for a direction in pursuance of this subsection and satisfies the Court-
- (a) that the direction is required for the purpose of obtaining evidence in support of the appeal; and
 - (b) that the applicant is likely to suffer substantial injustice if the direction is not given,
- the Court shall direct that subsection (1) shall not, by virtue of such allegation of a specified sexual offence as is specified in the direction, apply in relation to a complainant so specified.
- (6) Subsection (5) shall apply in relation to a conviction of an offence tried summarily as mentioned in section 155(3), and, in so applying for references to the Court of Appeal there shall be substituted references to a judge and the reference to notice of an application for leave to appeal shall be omitted.  - (d) a person is committed for trial at the Court of First Instance on a charge alleging a specified sexual offence against the complainant; or
 - (e) an indictment charging a person with a specified sexual offence against the complainant is preferred before the Court of First Instance,
- and references in this section to an allegation of a specified sexual offence shall be construed accordingly. (Replaced 26 of 1980 s. 2. Amended 25 of 1998 s. 2)

Conspiracy

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this Part, if a person agrees with any other person or persons that a course of conduct shall be pursued which, if the agreement is carried out in accordance with their intentions, either-

- (a) will necessarily amount to or involve the commission of any offence or offences by one or more of the parties to the agreement; or
- (b) would do so but for the existence of facts which render the commission of the offence or any of the offences impossible, he is guilty of conspiracy to commit the offence or offences in question.

(2) Where liability for any offence may be incurred without knowledge on the part of the person committing it of any particular fact or circumstance necessary for the commission of the offence, a person shall nevertheless not be guilty of conspiracy to commit that offence by virtue of subsection (1) unless he and at least one other party to the agreement intend or know that that fact or circumstance shall or will exist at the time when the conduct constituting the offence is to take place.

(3) In this section "offence" (罪行) means any offence triable in Hong Kong and includes murder notwithstanding that the murder in question would not be so triable if committed in accordance with the intentions of the parties to the agreement.

Section:	159B	Exemptions from liability for conspiracy		30/06/1997

(1) A person shall not by virtue of section 159A be guilty of conspiracy to commit any offence if he is an intended victim of that offence.

(2) A person shall not by virtue of section 159A be guilty of conspiracy to commit any offence or offences if the only other person or persons with whom he agrees are (both initially and at all times during the currency of the agreement) persons of any one or more of the following descriptions-

- (a) his spouse;
- (b) a person under the age of criminal responsibility; and
- (c) an intended victim of that offence or of each of those offences.

(3) A person is under the age of criminal responsibility for the purposes of subsection (2)(b) so long as it is conclusively presumed, by virtue of section 3 of the Juvenile Offenders Ordinance (Cap 226), that he cannot be guilty of any offence.

Section:	159C	Penalties		30/06/1997

(1) A person guilty of conspiracy to commit any offence or offences by virtue of section 159A shall be liable on conviction on indictment-

- (a) in a case falling within subsection (3) or (4), to imprisonment for a term related in accordance with that subsection to the gravity of the offence or offences in question (referred to in this section as "the relevant offence or offences"); and
- (b) in any other case, to a fine.

(2) Subsection (1)(b) shall not be taken as prejudicing the application of section 113A of the Criminal Procedure Ordinance (Cap 221) (power of court to fine) in a case falling within subsection (3) or (4).

(3) Where the relevant offence or any of the relevant offences is an offence of any of the following descriptions-

- (a) murder, or any other offence the sentence for which is mandatory life imprisonment; or
- (b) an offence for which a sentence extending to imprisonment for life is provided, the person convicted shall be liable to imprisonment for life.

(4) Where in a case other than one to which subsection (3) applies the relevant offence or any of the relevant offences is punishable with imprisonment, the person convicted shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding the maximum term provided for that offence or (where more than one such offence is in question) for any one of those offences (taking the longer or the longest term as the limit for the purposes of this section where the terms provided differ).

(5) A person guilty of conspiracy to commit any offence or offences by virtue of section 159A shall, where the relevant offence or any of the relevant offences is triable on indictment or summarily, be liable on summary conviction to any penalty to which he would have been liable on summary conviction of that relevant offence or any of the relevant offences.

(6) A person convicted of the offence at common law of conspiracy to defraud shall be liable to imprisonment for 14 years.

(7) Where any Ordinance confers a power of imposing pecuniary penalties or of forfeiture, seizure and search, or any powers and discretions to cancel, suspend or refuse to issue any licence, permit or other authorization, or imposes a duty which is to be exercised or performed consequent upon a conviction of a relevant offence or in relation to a person who is detained in custody for a relevant offence, then that power or duty shall be deemed to be also exercisable or performable consequent upon a conviction of a conspiracy to commit that relevant offence, but nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to authorize the imposition of any sentence of imprisonment otherwise than in default of payment of any pecuniary penalty which may be imposed by virtue of this subsection.

Section:	159D	Restriction on the institution of proceedings	10 of 2005	08/07/2005 proceedings under section 159A for conspiracy to commit that offence shall not be instituted against any person on the basis of that agreement.

(2) Any prohibition imposed by any enactment on the institution of proceedings for any offence otherwise than by, or on behalf or with the consent of, the Secretary for Justice or any other person also applies in relation to proceedings instituted under section 159A for conspiracy to commit that offence. (b) that course of conduct will necessarily amount to or involve the commission of any offence or offences by one or more of the parties to the agreement if the agreement is carried out in accordance with their intentions, the fact that it will do so shall not preclude a charge of conspiracy to defraud being brought against any of them in respect of the agreement.

(4) A person shall not be entitled to be acquitted of, or to have quashed his conviction for, the offence of conspiracy for the reason only that the only other person or persons with whom he is alleged, in the indictment or charge sheet, to have entered into that conspiracy are or have been acquitted.

(5) Any rule of law or practice inconsistent with the provisions of subsection (4) is abolished.

(6) The rules laid down by sections 159A and 159B shall apply for determining whether a person is guilty of an offence of conspiracy under any enactment other than section 159A, but conduct which is an offence under any such other enactment shall not also be an offence under section 159A.
